Campus Will Be Crowded With High School Seniors

Administration Building, Where 2,000 High School Seniors Register

The Administration Building was the first permanent building to be erected on the campus of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College. The corner-stone was laid in 1907 when Joseph W. Folk was governor of the state. The board of regents then included C. J. Colden, president; W. D. Rusk, W. F. Rankin, I. R. Williams, and H. A. Gass, State Superintendent of Schools.

More Than Two Thousand Are Expected to Be Here

Antique Pieces Are Displayed in Exhibit

A jam jar which belonged to Queen Victoria's mother and was used in London in 1800 is outstanding in the exhibit on second floor of the Administration building. It is 141 years old and is the property of Mrs. Anna Young.

A soup dish, called the Millennium dish, which is to celebrate the thousand-year anniversary mentioned in Revelations XX and Isaiah XI, is 151 years old and is also loaned by Mrs. Young.

Other pieces displayed by Mrs. Young are a china pitcher made in Austria, a dinner plate of English Pastoral china made in 1790, a Meerschaum pipe which was brought from Hanover County, Germany, about 80 years ago, and a powder horn which was used during the Civil War.

A sugar bowl, known to be at least 120 years old is displayed by Mrs. Lane Douglas.

Margaret Hanna has loaned a number of pieces of English Royal Ironstone China which were brought to Hopkins in 1874.

Several decorations received in the Civil War and a snuff box are also on display.

Assembly Program Will Instruct and Entertain Those Who Attend.

Luncheon Will Be Free

College Students Will Be Guides During Day and Will Show Visiting Seniors About

If a fair-sized town were suddenly to be dumped down on the College campus the result would be somewhat like what is expected on Senior Day. As the paper goes to press, 1940 high school seniors have sent in their acceptances of the College invitation to be on campus Monday, April 7.

The visitors will enter the Administration building pretty largely through the east door, where they will be met and conducted to the registration tables. Here they will go away carrying souvenirs of the day—Bearsat stickers, copies of the Northwest Missourian, Senior Day buttons.

One hundred fifty of the College students will be on duty as guides. They will answer questions, guide parties to the various points of interest about the College, see that the visitors find the things they especially wish to see, and make themselves generally useful.

The morning from 8 o'clock to 11 will be spent in making tours, visiting classes, seeing demonstrations and exhibits, making acquaintances.

Morning Assembly At 11 o'clock everybody will go to the Auditorium where the following program will be given, with Mr. Wilbur Stalcup, Director of Personnel for Men, presiding:

"The Moon" (Logan); "The Song of the Vagabond King," Mr. Hermann N. Schuster, tenor; Miss Marian Kerr, accompanist.

Presentation of platform guests, Dr. Uel W. Lamkin, president.

The Pure Sciences, Mr. William T. Garrett, chairman, department of Biological Sciences.

The Vocational Fields, Miss Eileen Elliott, instructor, Department of Home Economics.

The Social Studies, Dr. Eugene Klempell, chairman, Department of Social Sciences.

The Arts and Letters, Dr. Reven S. DeJarnette, director, the Conservatory of Music.

"Stars in a Velvet Sky" (Herbert L. Clark); "On the River" (John W. Geiger); Mr. John W. Geiger, trumpet; Miss Janet Leeder, accompanist.

Address, President Uel W. Lamkin. Announcements, Mr. Wilbur Stalcup.

Following the assembly luncheon will be served. Students will leave the Auditorium in four lines, with Miss Estella Bowman and Miss Ruth Miller directing the lines. Mr. Seubert and Mr. R. T. Wright will assist at the ends of the lines.

Students going to lunch will use the four stairways. The ones using the east stairway will go to Room 112 to be served. The ones using the west stairway will go to Room 115. The ones using the left front stairway will go to Room 101. The ones using the right front stairway will go to Room 124.

After receiving their food, the students will be directed to room where they may sit to eat. The rooms to be used are Rooms 326, 224, 205, 327, 318, 302, 308, 207, 121. Faculty people will serve as hosts and hostesses in each room.

Service for faculty and guides will be in Room 101, and they will go to 105 to eat. They will be served from 11:15 to 12. Guides, students helping Miss Villars, students helping the committee on luncheon preparation, orchestra, students working under the direction of Mr. Stalcup, and faculty who are assisting the committee on luncheon arrangements will receive luncheon tickets.

For those who care to dance, there will be dancing in Room 114 and the Student Center following the luncheon hour and travel pictures will be shown in the Auditorium from 1:00 until 1:45.

Afternoon Assembly At 2 o'clock will occur the Student Assembly with the following program:

Student Senate to Hold Annual Party

The annual Student Senate party will be held in the Student Center Saturday, April 5, from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m.

Proceeding on the maxim that all work and no play is not the height of desirable association, each of the senators will bring a guest to enjoy the program which will consist of a dance and of a trip to the mid-night show.

Marjorie Stone is general chairman of arrangements. She will be assisted by Richard Miller and Marion Moyes. Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Surrey and Mr. R. T. Wright are guest sponsors.

Easter Program Will Be Given Next Thursday

Choir, Orchestra, and Women's Ensemble Will Present Program.

The College Orchestra will present a concert at the Easter assembly, Thursday, April 10.

The orchestra under the direction of Mr. John W. Geiger, with Miss Jacinta Kampmeier as concertmaster, will present the following numbers:

Marche de la Cloche.....Delibes
Overture to the New Moon.....Sigmund Romberg
On the River.....John W. Geiger
Trumpet solo with orchestra accompaniment
Kent Stickleman
Peer Gynt Suite.....Edward Grieg
Morning
In The Hall Of The Mountain King
Allegretto.....Beethoven

The Women's Ensemble, coached by Miss Marian Kerr, will sing Schubert's "The Lord Is My Shepherd." In addition to these numbers, Dr. Reven S. DeJarnette will direct the College Choir in singing "Into the Woods My Master Went" by George B. Nevins.

This assembly will be held in the College Auditorium April 10, at 11 o'clock.

Former Critic Teacher Visits in Maryville

Miss Marian Peterson, of Minneapolis, was a Maryville visitor last week. She is teaching in the nursery school in the University of Minnesota where she has been since she left her position as first grade critic teacher at the Horace Mann School.

Miss Peterson was entertained at a Dutch supper given in her honor by the Misses Velma Cass, Barbara Zeller, Mary Ellen Horan and Evelyn Piper on Wednesday night, March 28. Thursday night Miss Chloe Millikan entertained teachers in the early childhood education department of the Horace Mann school at a dinner in Miss Peterson's honor.

Miss Vivian Lippman, a former student, who is now attending the Michigan State College at Lansing, returned to her work Sunday after spending several days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lippman.

Notice

The deadline for filing for student body president and vice-president has been set at five o'clock on Wednesday of April 9. Each candidate for nomination must file his or her name with the Registrar of the College on or before that date to satisfy the requirements of section one, article six of the Student Government Association constitution. The nomination convention is to be held during the second full week in April.

Instructors Attend Meeting

Miss Hettie M. Anthony, chairman of the Home Economics Department, together with Miss Marjorie Elliott and Miss Eileen Elliott, attended the meeting of the State Home Economics Association, which was held in Kirksville last Friday and Saturday.

Colene Rowland, Mary Winifred Canton, and Mary Frances Todd spent the week-end in Mound City.

Rachael Taul, of Smithville, spent the week-end at her home.

College Cafeteria Prepares for More Than 2,000 People Monday

Miss Ruth Villars Buys Food and Superintends Preparation of It.

Some of the College lads may be shedding bitter tears next Saturday. It could be that they are mourning the fact that they have not had a date all (leap) week, but more than likely it is because they have been peeling onions. They threaten to appear in gas-masks. They will begin work on Saturday peeling three pecks of onions to be mixed with 72 gallons of beans! More than two barrels of beans!

No, Residence Hall girls are not going to live on beans for the next month.

Mr. Wilbur Stalcup, chairman of the Senior Day committee, has received 1850 acceptances from the high school seniors of Iowa—that explains the fact that Miss Ruth Villars is buying and preparing food in such enormous quantities. The menu for this lunch includes meat loaf, beans, baked beans, pickles, cookies, Dixie Ice Cream Cups, and coffee.

Miss Villars has ordered 300 pounds of meat, 170 dozen each of buns, cookies, and Dixie Cups, 30 pounds of butter, 72 gallons of beans, 25 gallons of pickles, and 3 pecks of onions. She will prepare about 50 gallons of coffee.

Preparation for this Monday lunch will begin Saturday. The men employed at Residence Hall will assist in preparation and serving. The onions will be peeled and the crumbs for the meat loaf will be ground on Saturday.

On Sunday the pickles will be counted and the 2040 buns will be buttered and packed. Two men have been assigned the job of opening bean cans and ketchup, which Miss Villars stated "was no easy job."

All of the food will be prepared in the College kitchen but brought to the Administration building to be served. Special rooms will be provided where the visitors may eat, and each room will have a host or hostess selected from members of the faculty.

Including guides and others assisting the Senior Day committee, there will be over 2000 people to be served. Miss Villars has appointed captains for four rooms and there will be four lines at the same time. About twenty girls from Residence Hall will assist the Hashslingers in serving.

Speech Department Presents Assembly Program Wednesday

Panel Discussion of Debate Question Is Featured.

The Speech department and members of Pi Delta Kappa, honorary forensic fraternity, gave the regular Wednesday assembly this week. Featured on the program was a panel discussion in which members of the debate squad participated. The question before the panel was "Resolved, That the nations of the Western Hemisphere should form a permanent union."

Miss Mary Ann Busby opened the program with a general discussion of the question. Franklin Ewing and Herschel Bryant discussed history of Pan-America with recent developments and economic needs for the union. Werner Herz and Franklin Bithous pointed out the objections to the union, while Miss Mary Frances McCaffrey gave the military needs and political needs that without failure would confront such a union. Walter Burks stressed the ultimate purpose of the proposed union. Helen Cline gave the specific form the union could take.

Following the panel discussion Violetta Weems gave an oration, "America's Task," and Walter Burks spoke on "Democracy." Mrs. Margaret Main closed the program by reading Amy Lowell's "Patterns."

Two Students Take Positions in Iowa

Rosemary Larkam has accepted a position in the public school at Climbing Hill, Iowa, to teach home economics and English. She will work under Clifford Evans, a graduate of the College, who has been superintendent there during this past year.

Richard Huston, who will take his degree this year with a major in industrial arts, will also teach in Climbing Hill. He will teach industrial arts and some other subjects.

Two Bus-Loads Will Go to Palm Service

As a great many students expressed a desire to take advantage of the opportunity to visit the convent at Clyde and the abbey at Conception on Palm Sunday, April 6, two buses will make the trip instead of one as originally planned. Special arrangements have been made by the "Y" groups with the officials at the convent and the abbey to allow the increased number of students to attend the services.

The buses will leave from Residence Hall promptly at 7:00 a. m., Sunday, April 6.

Those who will go in the first bus are: Arlene Campbell, Dorothy Matter, Kia Salgupta, Lloyd Latta, Dorothy Nell Moore, Beulah Wilkinson, Marian Davis, Rosemary Larkam, Lillian Staszewsky, Bertha Milred Nelson, Marjorie Stone, Kenneth Norris, Marjorie Wray, Harvey Thompson, Margaret Hackman, Ruth Pfander, Marceline Wiley, Vernon Kurz, Paul Smith, Emily Gillette, Annette Crowe, Frances Smith, Byron Stevenson, W. J. Cotton, Leland Hamilton, and Miss Eileen Elliott, who will go as chaperone.

Those who will go in the second bus are: Dodley Weems, Barbara Kowitz, Agnes Kowitz, Marian Sutherlin, Gladys Cotton, Margaret Stafford, Jean Martine, Margaret Dickerson, Annora Means, Emmert Lawson, Mary Catherine Needles, Lois Langland, Forrest Barnes, Allen White, Bonny White, Ena June Garrett, Kenneth Israel, Marjorie Moyes, Mildred Gathman, Ruth Crowover, Kessel Coulson, Thelma Bacon, Lucille Jeffrey, Evangeline Scott, and Miss Day Evans and Miss Marian Lippitt, who will go as chaperones.

Bob and Margaret Bower spent Saturday, March 29, with their sister Betty at Residence Hall. They were accompanied to Maryville by Mr. R. D. Bower of Cowgill, and Mr. Charles Myers of Braymer, who attended the Elementary Education Conference.

Dortha Henry, secretary to Mr. Homer T. Phillips, spent the week-end in Bedford, Iowa.

Eminent Teacher Discusses Next Steps Ahead

Demonstration of Free Rhythmic Activity Is Shown on Program.

Dr. William H. Kilpatrick, who holds the reputation of being one of America's foremost educational philosophers and one of her greatest teachers, was on the campus last week for the Sixth Annual Conference on Elementary Education, which was held Saturday, March 29.

The Conference opened at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning with a demonstration of rhythmic activities for the grades under the general direction of Miss Day Weems, of the Physical Education Department. The activities showed the various types of rhythm work suitable for various age levels. The children who took part in the demonstration were from the Horace Mann Elementary school. The group of first graders, who presented a natural rhythm dance were under the special direction of Miss Elizabeth Ann Bokkin.

Miss Weems said that dancing teachers should feel no hesitation about using equipment for more effective presentation of their dances. As an example of this use of equipment she mentioned the Morris Stick dance done by a seventh and eighth grade group.

At 10 o'clock President Uel W. Lamkin gave the welcoming address to the conference. This was followed by the introduction of Dr. Kilpatrick by Mr. Homer T. Phillips.

Dr. Kilpatrick was in charge of the panel discussing—"The Next Steps Ahead." Members of the panel were school officials from the state of Missouri. Instructors from this faculty who participated in the panel discussion were: Miss Mary E. Keith, Miss Chloe Millikan, and Mr. Homer T. Phillips. Marjorie Powell, a senior student here at the College, represented the students in the discussion.

Many questions were raised by the panel. Dr. Kilpatrick, who seemed almost the teacher, summarized the morning's discussion by stating three main questions for discussion in the group meeting. These general topics were: Democracy's Place in the School, The Responsibility of the School in Regard to the Child's Physical Development, and The Relation of the Curriculum to the Child.

These problems were debated in the various group meetings and were again discussed by Dr. Kilpatrick at the main afternoon session.

William Landers, Jr., N. Y. A. student, returned to College last Monday after an illness of four weeks.

Captain Schultz Will Speak Before Club

Captain Edward Schultz, head of the Civil Pilots Training in Maryville, will be guest speaker at the International Relations Club meeting, Tuesday, April 15. It was announced by Edward Daniels, president of the club, Tuesday, April 4. Everyone is invited to hear Captain Schultz, regardless of whether or not he is a member of the club.

At the International Relations Club meeting, reports of the Mississippi Valley International Relations Club Conference at Warrensburg, were given. There were ten representatives of the College who attended the conference, March 28 and 29. They were: Dr. Henry Foster, Vaughn Means, Dorothy Matter, Lillian Staszewsky, Angeline New, Ricca Meyer, Lois Langland, Leason Wilson, Virgil Elliott, and Martha Jane Hamilton.

Reports which were made at the meeting were: "Highlights of the Conference," Leason Wilson; review of a speech entitled "Inter-American Relations of Tomorrow" given by Mr. C. Dale Fuller, professor of the University of Denver, reviewed by Virgil Elliott; a discussion of the round-table discussion entitled "Good Neighbor Policy" by Martha Hamilton; a paper read by Lois Langland entitled, "A League of Nations for the West"; "Organization and Programs of International Relations Clubs" by Angeline New; "International Opinion" by Dorothy Matter.

Officers which have been elected recently by the club are: President, Edward Daniels; vice-president, John Carl Dunlap; secretary-treasurer, Leason Wilson; and publicity manager, Martha Hamilton.

English Instructor Speaks Before "Y"

Developing a topic that is of some concern to every student on the campus, Miss Mattie M. Dykes of the English Department, spoke on Student-Faculty Relations at the Y-M-YWCA meeting Thursday evening, March 3. Marjorie Stone gave a talk on Student-Faculty Relations outside the class-room, and Mack Jackson spoke on Student-Faculty Relations in the class-room.

After the talks, a general discussion was held. Special music was given by Christopher Evans. The campus affairs Commission of which Paul Smith is chairman was in charge of the program.

William Landers, Jr., N. Y. A. student, returned to College last Monday after an illness of four weeks.

Bookstore Makes Ready to Supply Wants of Seniors

Milk, Coffee, Chocolate Bars, Sandwiches, Gum, Soft Drinks.

The Bookstore is making elaborate preparations to be able to serve more adequately the visiting high school seniors on Senior Day. No high school senior need worry about not being able to satisfy his desire for candy, gum, and what-not.

Four thousand additional sticks of gum have been added to the supply in various flavors. A full 1,000 candy bars have been ordered to supplement the already large stock. Mints, chocolate bars, toffy nuts, cracker sandwiches, cookies are available for 'tween-meal snacks.

Fifty additional cases of soft drinks have been ordered. Twelve hundred bottles of one favorite alone, should satisfy the thirst but there are other favorites too, including gallons of fine, pure Jersey milk from the College farm, and "coffee enough for an army," according to the manager of the Bookstore.

An additional service of the Bookstore this year is the sandwich counter, which will supply tuna, ham, salad, egg-salad, pimento cheese, and brick cheese sandwiches, plain or toasted.

Furthermore, the Bookstore has agreed to make change for those who may desire nickels to keep the nickeloed going. Six hundred nickels will be in readiness to go into circulation if needed to make change.

Seniors are invited to visit the Bookstore on the first floor, to the right as one enters the Administration building from the east door.

O'Neillian Club Casts Play for Senior Day

A one-act play, to be presented by the O'Neillian Club Senior Day at 2:00 p. m., was casted at a special meeting of the club held Monday afternoon. Members of the cast are Leland Hamilton, Francisco Lisbona, Jr., and Marlene Osborn. The play is a comedy entitled "Derelict."

The invitation to the O'Neillians by the Peony Festival committee of Hamburg, Iowa, to present a one-act play was considered but a decision was deferred until the next regular meeting.

It was decided by the dramatic club to hold their regular meetings in Room 119 each Tuesday afternoon at 4:00.

Pi Kappa Delta Enters Provincial Tournament

Last week, Wednesday through Saturday, William Jewell College and the town of Excelsior Springs were hosts to the provincial tournament of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic society. Seventeen colleges and 126 different contestants took part in the tournament. Maryville's representatives ended the debate season with a creditable showing at William Jewell.

Walter Burks received first place and a gold medal in the extemporaneous speaking division. In the poetry reading contest Mrs. Main placed fifth in a field of thirteen. Violetta Weems was fifth in the oratory division. The debaters, Herschel Bryant and Franklin Ewing won four out of seven debates.

At the conclusion of the contests a formal dinner and dance were given for the group.

The contest at Excelsior Springs marked the end of the present season for Maryville's debaters. During the past few months the team has traveled approximately 4,000 miles, entered 4 major competitions, and won 21 debates as against 18 losses.

Mr. W. T. Garrett Will Speak Sunday Morning

Mr. W. T. Garrett, of the Biology department, will speak at the Student Sunday Morning Hour next Sunday, April 5. His will be the third of a series of lectures for the study of the prophets of the Bible and their application to life today.

The study this Sunday will concern the prophet Elijah.

In addition to the address by Mr. Garrett, there will be selected readings by Jesse Lundy, and a vocal solo by Dorothy Lee Montgomery.

Last Sunday, a study of the history and background of some of the famous hymns of the Church will be presented.

Since the following Sunday will occur during Easter vacation, there will be no meeting April 13. The meetings will be resumed April 20, with a study of another prophet.

From the Dean

Dr. Karl W. Bigelow, Director of the Cooperative Study of Teacher Education, sponsored by the American Council on Education, is on our campus today as a guest of the College. Dr. Bigelow is very much interested in the program of Teacher Education which is being carried on here. The students and the faculty join in welcoming him to this campus.

We are proud of the opportunity that such a visit gives to Dr. Bigelow to see the music festival which is a part of the program of teacher education in this district. The College welcomes to its fellowship the many high school students who are participating in this festival.

"We talk endlessly about defense. Most of us realize that defense is not merely a matter of mechanical supplies but that it is a matter of maintaining free institutions. But surely we need to do more than merely defend democracy. We need to understand it, we need to promote it, we need to build it into something that is finer and better. I assert, therefore, that universities have a duty toward civilization just as a civilization has a duty toward them. They cannot be indifferent to the promotion of those ideals and those objectives which build a better civilization and a better world."

"The greatest contribution any university can make to the national defense program is to do its regular job even better than it has done it before. It may adapt its program, curriculum and services to meet the special demands of the times, but this adaptation should not throw the normal program out of balance or adjustment."

AAUW Convention Is Attended By Four From Here

Resolutions Are Passed Concerning Conditions Threatening Ideals

Dr. Ruth Lowery, newly elected president of the Maryville Branch of the American Association of University Women, and Miss Olive DeLuce, both state officers, went to Springfield last Thursday to attend the state convention in session there the last two days of the week and the executive board meeting which preceded the convention.

Later Miss Estella Bowman, who represented the College at the convention, and Dr. Blanche H. Dow, a member of the national committee on maintaining standards, joined the other two faculty members to attend the convention.

Those who attended report that the convention was an interesting and inspiring one. Among the speakers there were Judge Florence Allen of the United States Federal Circuit Court of Cincinnati, who spoke on "The Constitution as an Instrument of Freedom." Dr. Cecilia Gaposchkin, who went from Maryville, where she spoke before the assembly, to address the convention, and Mrs. Emory H. Wright of Kansas City, who spoke on "The Dangers of Defense."

Mrs. Wright stressed the danger of making this teacher rear of the burden of financial reductions, of eliminating fundamental cultural elements from the curricula particularly of the secondary schools, and of various intolerances attendant upon fanatical patriotism.

Dr. Lowery, saying that she thought women, graduates of the College who receive the Northwest Missourian, would be interested in the resolutions of the convention, submits the following excerpt from the resolutions adopted:

The Missouri Division of the A. A. U. W. in convention assembled fully realizes the powerful forces both within and without the country which threaten the democratic way of life, and

Whereas these forces threaten ideals which the A. A. U. W. has sought to advance, and

Whereas it is important that the contributions made to society by university women must not be nullified, therefore

Be it resolved that the Missouri Division reaffirm its belief in the objectives of the national organization with reference more especially to the following points:

1. To carry on a continuous program of practical education.
2. To safeguard academic freedom and to protect the schools against the reduction of the public support of education by shortsighted economic measures under the guise of defense, and second, against the control of schools by undemocratic procedures.

3. To preserve in the curricula of our schools, particularly in the secondary schools, the cultural values and traditions upon which our democracy was founded and upon which its preservation depends.

4. To continue to support the program of scholarships so that highly qualified women may have opportunity to contribute to the development and preservation of learning.

5. To safeguard the economic and legal status of women against all forces which would deprive women of both their rights and their opportunities.

6. To promote tolerance of other people who may differ because of religion, nationality, or race.

7. To do all possible to share in the common defense of the democratic way of living for all people.

Whereas the United States has called upon its citizens to come to

Dear Diary,

It was bad enough to have to ask him for the date after I hadn't so much as spoken to him for three months, but taking him candy was the last straw. Maybe some day I'll learn 'not to make bets with Allice. She 'lways wins. Anyhow, I finally got up my nerve and asked him for the date, trying to ignore the I-knew-you'd-come-back look on his face, and spent the rest of the day wishing I'd never been born. Then tonight found me ringing his bell with a box of candy under my arm, looking like three kinds of a fool and feeling like four. Of course he wasn't ready and I spent a quarter of an hour stuttering at the house mother before he finally came down. We went down town, with me always forgetting to walk on the outside, and neither of us saying a word all the way. When we got in the show I was so confused and I stumbled over a whole row of people, sat on a man's lap, and dropped my purse under the seats. In front of us and had to climb under after it, bumping my head on the arm rest when I got up. The blow gave me such a headache I didn't even see the picture and was perfectly ready for a coke with aspirin when it was over. We went to the Granada and talked to the usual hordes of people until I forgot the mishaps of the evening and was actually having a good time. But when we got ready to leave I also forgot that I was paying the bills and we both stood by the cash register for ten minutes before I realized what was wrong. By the time we got home I was in a state of temper that would be fatal to a red headed Irishman, and thoroughly convinced that I would never see my date again. We used to have such lovely times. But Fate decided to smile after the kicking around she'd given me, and he said, "What you need is somebody to take care of you—next week I'll be asking for the dates." Maybe Alice was a pal after all.

Advisory Council for National Defense Meets

The Federal Regional Advisory Council for coordination of health and welfare in the National Defense Program, composed of representatives of seventeen Federal agencies, met March 17 and 18 at the Hotel Continental to look at the record for the purposes of coordinating the health and welfare demands on the local, state and national fronts in terms of need and their practical solution, according to a news release from the Social Security Board of Kansas City.

Ed McDonald, regional director of the Social Security Board for Arkansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Kansas, recently named regional coordinator of health and welfare and related defense activities for the same states, issued notice of the first meeting. More than fifty persons, representatives of such agencies as National Youth Administration, Civilian Conservation Corps, U. S. Public Health Service, Work Projects Administration, Veterans Administration, and State officials of unemployment compensation, education and public health agencies, and State planning boards and "key" persons in related programs, were invited.

Mr. McDonald, in commenting on the meeting said, "If national coordination of health and welfare is to be more than a noble, but empty gesture, it must turn the spotlight of national concern and action upon the particular problems of particular communities. These are problems we must face." Mr. McDonald continued, "not only in our military national defense, but in our civil defense. We cannot follow any hard-and-fast lines, but must map our course as we go, maintaining current analysis of both existing and potential problems and at the same time mobilize our resources to meet them."

The program, it was stated, covered community planning, local community, state and federal participation in defense projects and their concomitant civilian problems; activities which might be undertaken by federal, state and local agencies within existing resources and policies and activities which appear necessary but upon which action cannot be undertaken because of inadequate resources or absence of federal policy.

The Stroller...

The Stroller feels just like Harvey Davis looks these days as he tries to keep up with Mr. Ferguson and the Tower photographer. How's that? Tired! He has tried to get into all of the pictures being taken—formal and action—and that's wearing out the best of folk.

Just as she gets herself posed with that glassy smile the photographers love, up comes Mr. Ferguson with, "Left foot back a little, and I wish you'd worn hose today," and her poor glassy smile vanishes.

Hardly is that ordeal over when the Stroller dashes off to get into the orchestra picture. He throws his shoulders back to look important when up comes Mr. Ferguson again.

"Pull in your stomach there," he says. "What do you think you are? The fellow who plays the double bass?"

Then the Northwest Missourian staff gets an at-work shot. And he, the Stroller, had to move all the furniture in the two-by-four staff room to get "atmosphere," the editor said. Well by that time, the Stroller felt like giving the editor the air, for he's no menial to take orders even from the editor. He's a genius, just like Charlie McCarthy and feels a little as Charlie does toward Bergen so far as editor's and the like go; and any how, he has a date to go bicycling with Virginia Thomas and doesn't care to be all out of breath to start with.

But the last straw was when the Stroller went to get her measurements taken for cap and gown—yes, the Stroller hopes to get a degree in the spring—and to have Jackie Salmon ask, "What is your weight?" No girl wants to tell her weight and yet the Stroller doesn't want to look like Deland Hamilton trying to wear a gown sized to Mary Ann Busby. Wishfully thinking and knowing how hard it is going to be to refuse dessert from now until commencement, the Stroller answered, "One hundred three and a half." Whereupon, Jackie fell in a faint.

Before Jackie recovered, the Stroller dashed off to get the story about Phyllis Watsbaugh, who has wanted to go snipe hunting for quite some time and was told she might find some out at the Country Club. The Stroller could not conceal his mirth when he heard of her embarrassment when she went out to the lake Tuesday night to catch some snipe and was left holding the sack. The Stroller supposes some will never learn to guard against April Fool jokes. Of course he believes in snipes.

By the time he wrote up that story it was 9:00 a. m., and in spite of the fact that the sign in front of the auditorium said "Assembly today, 10:00," the Stroller with a few of the college students followed the high school students in when they came up from the Horace Mann building for an assembly, at nine o'clock.

Quad Highlights

Mr. Clem Haun has engaged several additional boys of the training school to work under his direction on the new building which is being built for the College at the east side of the campus. The boys help in the carrying of brick and cement to the brick layers who are getting along quite well with the new building. Mr. Haun has Johnnie Jones and J. P. Courtney doing this work in the mornings, and Patrick Berry and Leinus Wedderburn in the afternoons. On Saturdays the boys of the Machine Shop work group, work outside part of the day on the building.

April 4 has been set as the date for Parents Day at the college. The parents and the students of Resident Training have been looking forward to its coming. The parents who will come to the Quad as their sons' guests that day, will visit the different buildings on the College campus and will have a chance to see the type work the boys are doing, and also will see them in action. The parents will also be guests of the boys at dinner at the Quad Commons.

At a meeting of the Resident Training Group Mayor and Council and a few of the other boys of the Training Center it was decided that a number of our Resident Training Quad Members would act as guides and ushers on Senior Day for the hundreds of high school seniors who will come here. The meeting was called by Howard Bower who presided at the meeting.

The boys in the Machine Shop work group under the direction of Mr. Jewel Myers have been spending most of their time on a type of gutter drain pipe system which will be placed around the top of the new Industrial Arts Building and will be used to drain the water from the roof. Some of the boys who have done work on this are: James Corlham, Charles Snook, Donald Israel, L. W. Basset, Roy Thomas, Paul Riesmey and Ralph Collins.

In the Vocational English Department directed by Mr. Robert Main the boys of Resident Training have been studying about the correct form for outlines of magazine articles which they have obtained from the reserved shelf in the Col## lege library.

The boys have been playing soft ball in their spare time lately and they plan to make up one or more teams soon.

Virgil Gould from Forrest City has recently enrolled in the machine and metal school.

In the Social Whirl

Leap Week Proves Co-eds Are Good As Entertainers

Girls Are Expected to Be Kinder After Week's Experiences.

Betty Co-ed has done very well in providing for entertainment and fun during the past week, and has proved to Joe College that she, too, can plan an evening full of entertainment and provide for her date.

With the situation reversed she has experienced some of the sufferings of securing a date, and she will be kinder to her young man from now on, you may be sure.

Monday evening, there was an informal dance in the Student Center Rooms with a tag line which left no men wall-flowers. Music was provided by the nickelodeon.

The second large event of Leap Week was a dance sponsored by the Student Social Committee in the Girls' Gymnasium, Wednesday, April 2, from 4 until 6. The dance band furnished the music.

Tonight, the highlight of Leap Week will be a masquerade dance in which the girls will wear boys' clothes and boys will wear girls' clothes. The dance will be held in the Girls' Gymnasium from 9:00 until 12:00.

The last chance for the girls to entertain their dates will be the midnight show, all girls on the campus have been given leave show permission.

Dinah Shore, network vocalist, is a graduate of Vanderbilt University.

Dessert-Dance to Be Held for Hall Girls

The girls of Residence Hall will be entertained by a dessert-dance to be held April 9, from 8:30 until 12. The first part of the evening will be spent in playing bridge in the living room. Dessert will be served in the downstairs rooms and dancing will follow. Music will be furnished by the nickelodeon.

The committees for the dessert-dance are as follows: receiving committee, Iola Argo, Lois Langland, Mary Madgett, Jean Martine, Mary Virginia Beck, dessert serving, Elizabeth Patterson, June Funk, Charlotte Meyer, Irah Miller; decoration committee, Mary Margaret Tilton, Priscilla Ann Feagans, Patricia Paris, Barbara Kowitz, Frances Smith, Betty Townsend, Jane Carlock, Elaine Gorsuch; music and program, Charlene Barnes, Betty Bower, Betty June Harzlin, Wilma Hadorn, Iche Hurst; removal, Evelyn Dow, Jean Huffman, Evelyn Marsh, Betty Drennan, Betty Duncan, Sue McGraw.

Invited guests are: Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Surray and Mr. and Mrs. Seibert.

Sigma Tau Gammas Elect New Officers

James Cook has been named president of Sigma Tau Gamma to succeed Richard Dempsey. He will take over the duties of president after a training period of four weeks. Other officers elected are: vice-president, Robert Davis; secretary, Wesley Page; treasurer, John Anderson; sergeant-at-arms, John Yeaman.

Sorority to Give Formal Tea Sunday Faculty and Student Representatives to Be Guests.

The Alpha Sigma Alpha Easter formal tea will be at the home of Mrs. F. M. Townsend, patroness of the sorority, on 640 College Avenue, Sunday, April 6, from 2:30 until 6:30. College faculty and representatives of all college organizations have been invited. The assisting hostesses are Miss Marian B. Lippitt and Miss Dorothy Truex.

Those in the receiving line will be: Mary Kyger, president, Mrs. F. M. Townsend, Mrs. Charles R. Bell, Mrs. Clun Price, Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mrs. Albert Kuchs, patronesses, Miss Mary Fisher, and Miss Miriam Waggoner, sponsors, Nyda Snyder and Mary Frances Todd will introduce to the receiving line.

Those who will pour are: Mrs. Clun Price and Mrs. J. W. Jones from two-thirty until three-thirty; Mrs. Charles R. Bell and Mrs. Albert Kuchs from three-thirty until four-thirty; Miss Mary Fisher and Mrs. Frederick Maier from four-thirty until five-thirty; Miss Barbara Zellmer and Mrs. Robert Geist from five-thirty until six-thirty.

The decorations will consist of spring flowers and music will be furnished by Mary Anne Smith for the entire afternoon. The chairman of the various committees are: general chairman, Nyda Snyder; wraps, Priscilla Ann Feagans; greeting, Iola Argo and Patty Ferris; end of line, Ruth Kelly; removal of plates, Dorothy Lasell; refill, Mary Margot Phares; food, Mary Margot Phares, music, Harriett Lasell; invitations, Martha Jane Hamilton.

Kappa Phi to Honor Senior Girls. The Kappa Omicron Phi fraternity will honor senior girls who are interested in Home Economics, April 7, Monday, with a tea in the home economics department in room 305. This tea given on Senior Day, is a tradition which has been kept by the fraternity.

Fraternities. Fraternities are general chairman of the arrangements. The sorority colors of red and gold will be carried out in the table decorations and refreshments. Iris Ebersole, retiring president, and Anna Young, incoming president, will pour. Miss Hettie M. Anthony and Miss Eileen Elliott will be present.

Miss Mildred Mae Thomas of Forest City spent part of her week-end with her parents.

Salaries represent $1,936,000 of the $2,547,000 two-year budget at West Virginia University.

Mr. Leide-Tedesco Returns to Campus to Visit with Friends

Famous Conductor Takes Baton to Direct Local Orchestra Players.

Last Saturday Mr. Maribeth Leide-Tedesco was in New Mexico; Monday night he was in Maryville, Missouri, visiting friends. In less than three days he had covered more than 1,500 miles to have time for a short stay on this campus.

"Where you have friends, there is where you are," was Mr. Leide-Tedesco's explanation of his return to the campus less than three weeks after his first appearance here. It will be remembered that his first engagement here was to lecture on "Enduring Values," before the student body. When asked the purpose of this second visit, he commented in his unique, distinctive fashion, "When one visits his friends, that is his best purpose."

Particularly did the noted musician have reference to Dr. Evelyn S. DeJarnette, chairman of the Music department of the College. Whom he rediscovered three weeks ago. Dr. DeJarnette and Mr. Leide-Tedesco had been friends when the former was a student and the latter, the head of the department of strings at the Conservatory of the University of Illinois. At that time, said the visitor, "Mr. DeJarnette used to come to the studio and I was always happy to discuss things with him."

For years the two men did not meet. Mr. Leide-Tedesco had returned to Europe, where he conducted many of the leading symphony orchestras of the continent and gave many first performances as well as continuing his work in furthering music in the academic world. Then Mr. Leide-Tedesco came to Maryville to lecture and found his friend here as chairman of the Music department. "When I finally rediscovered him," said Mr. Leide-Tedesco of Dr. DeJarnette, "I felt that I had found a lost child; and," he added earnestly, "I am certainly proud of my prodigal son."

Commenting upon the work of Dr. DeJarnette, the visitor said, "He uses rare wisdom and insight seldom discovered in music educators. He is more than an educator; he is an artist as well."

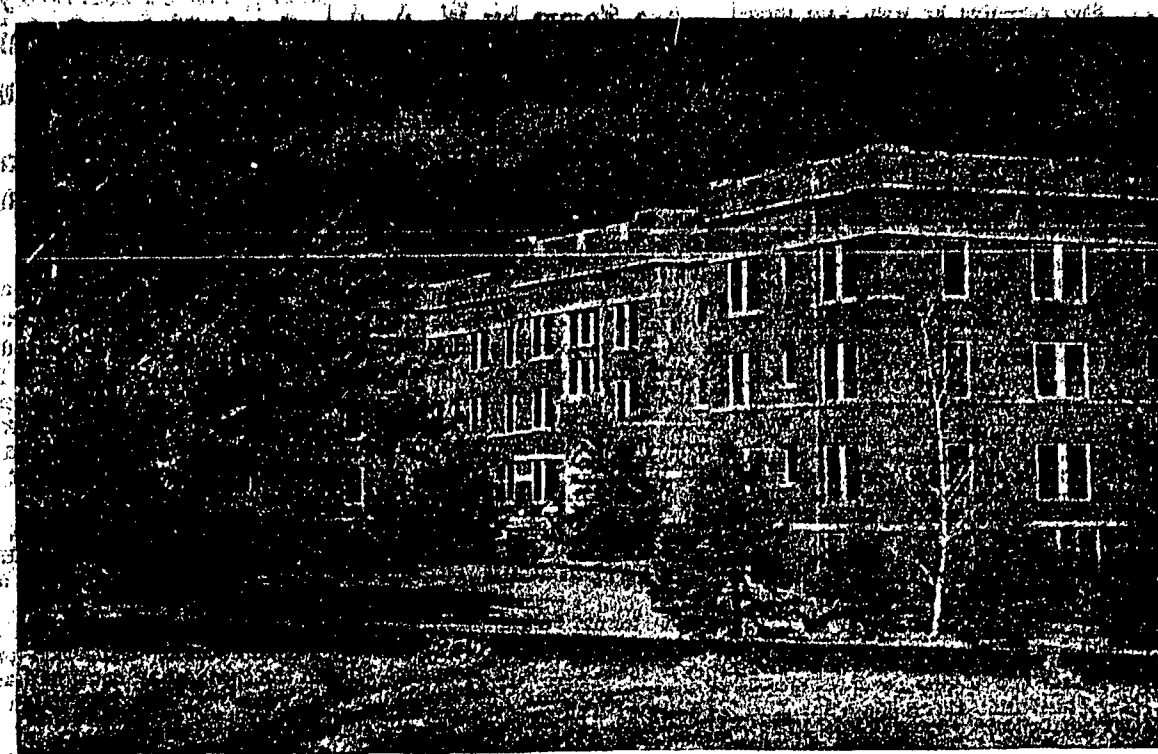

Mr. Leide-Tedesco considered his first visit here so rushed that he did not have opportunity to meet and become acquainted with faculty and students as this visit provided. He spoke especially flatteringly of Dr. Blanche Dow, whom he met through Dr. DeJarnette. His genial face beamed with enthusiasm as he spoke of having conversed an hour with her without speaking or hearing spoken a word of English. He commented upon the fluency, perfection, and finesse of her French.

While the interview which provided this story was going on, the comments of the famous conductor came between phrases of orchestral music. The moment the College orchestra began to play, he was no longer Mr. Leide-Tedesco the Lecturer but Mr. Leide-Tedesco the Conductor. Phrases executed well received his instant approval; those not so well done received his immediately helpful suggestions as Mr. John Geiger invited them.

"I am having the time of my life," he said, after Mr. Geiger had asked him to take the baton for a few minutes. "Having been so long connected with large symphonies, it is wonderful to see what can be done with a small ensemble."

With the beginning of each number, Mr. Leide-Tedesco rapidly related the story of the composition to the reporter and demonstrated graphically the way in which it could be made most effective. Interpersed with these demonstrations, he dropped bits of his philosophy which has, no doubt, contributed to his eminent success as a conductor. "Music is dynamic," he said once, earnestly and vehemently. "It is dynamic! It should excite all the faculties and accelerate all the senses. It is alive! Again he remarked seriously, "The most challenging thing about music to me is to make it as intelligible as possible. It should not be intricate and mysterious as some try to make it. Unless people can understand it the music loses its value."

Seniors Should See Residence Hall

Mr. Leide-Tedesco left Tuesday morning to appear at Ames, Iowa, for a scheduled appearance. From there he plans to return to New York and his work there.

Baptist Union Uses Garden for Theme

The Baptist Student Union sponsored a banquet for B. S. U. members and friends last Tuesday evening at 6:30. The banquet was served in the church basement, which had been transformed into a garden by the ingenuity of the decoration committee. Everywhere sweet peas blossomed, and entrance to the garden was gained by passing under a replica of a gateway with climbing sweet peas. The B. S. U. colors, purple and white, were carried out in the table decorations.

In this setting the program, "The Garden of Christian Life," was presented. Program: Praise to the Light of the Garden (Doxology). Thanks to the Giver of Light—Ellis Reynolds. Welcome to the Plants in the Garden—Lorraine LeHew. Solo, "Roses of Picardy"—Elizabeth Swisher. Key to the Garden—Past President.

Plans for Barnwrmn' Are Nearly Completed

At a second meeting of the officers of the Freshman class and the social committees, plans for the Freshman party were nearly completed. The theme, as announced last week, will be a "Barnwrmn'" to be held in the Old West Library, from 8:30 to 11:30 on Friday, April 18.

The decorations will be in keeping with the theme and all Freshmen are asked to wear "pruit dresses, overalls, or other appropriate dress. There will be dancing in the Old West Library to the music of the College Dance Band and games in the Student Center for those who do not care to dance.

This is the first social affair that the Freshmen have had this year and the committee urges all members of the class to come.

Skidmore College has an Overseas Fund for Tobacco, which sends cigarettes and pipe tobacco to soldiers.

Girardeau Wins in Indoor Track Meet

Wayne Taylor Takes Mile Run and Elmer Barton, Sixty-Yard Dash.

No one asks any more who won the conference indoor track meet; he merely asks "How many points did Cape Girardeau get?" For the sixth straight time the Indians won the meet at Columbia, and this time they marked down more points than all the other teams together. They took nine firsts and totaled 68 points, while the Bearcats were second with 32, and the others in order were: Warrensburg 16, Springfield, 7, Kirksville 5, and Rolla 4.

Wayne Taylor's record in the half mile of 2:04, set last year, was beaten by Clotfelter who lowered the time to 2:33. Herb Mulkey, all around sportsman from Cape, was high point man with two firsts and a second.

Taylor secured one of the first places by winning the mile run at 4:37.7, and Barton won first in the 60 yard dash at :06.5.

The summaries:

Three Records

New records—all entered by Cape athletes—were 2:03.3 in the half mile, set by Clotfelter, who broke a mark of 2:04 hung up by Taylor of Maryville a year ago; 13 feet, 1/4 inch in pole vault, set by Spurlock, the previous record holder; and 45 feet, 2 inches in the shot put, set by Wolfe, who also owned the previous mark.

Taylor forsook the half mile mark in which he formerly held the record to win the mile at 4:38.7, one of two first places scored by Maryville. The other went to Barton at :06.5 in the 60-yard dash.

High point man was Herb Mulkey, of Cape of course, with first in the high jump and high hurdles and second in the low hurdles.

The summaries:

Mile run—Won by Taylor, Maryville; Clotfelter, Cape Girardeau, second; Donnington, Maryville, third; Fort, Maryville, fourth. Time, 4 minutes 38.7 seconds.

60-yard dash—Won by Barton, Maryville; Saunders, Maryville, second; Gunnnett, Cape Girardeau, third; Brumbach, Kirksville, fourth. Time, 6.5 seconds.

Shot put—Won by Wolfe, Cape Girardeau; Milne, Cape Girardeau, second; Holt, Warrensburg, third; Kurz, Kirksville, fourth. Distance, 45 feet 2 inches. (New meet record; former record 44 feet 10 7/8 inches, by Wolfe, Cape Girardeau, 1940).

High jump—Won by Spurlock, Cape Girardeau; Hunter, Cape Girardeau, second; Darr, Maryville, and Reno, Maryville, tied for third. Height, 13 feet 1/4 inch. (Meet record; former record, 12 feet 8 7/8 inches, by Spurlock and Hunter, Cape Girardeau, 1940).

440-yard dash—Won by Allison, Cape Girardeau; Golladay, Warrensburg, second; Barton, Maryville, third; Taylor, Maryville, fourth. Time, 6:5.4 seconds.

60-yard high hurdles—Won by Mulkey, Cape Girardeau; Agan, Springfield, second; Smith, Cape Girardeau, third; Ooltey, Warrensburg, fourth. Time, 8.1 seconds.

880-yard run—Won by Clotfelter, Cape Girardeau; Murphy, Maryville, second; Gannun, Rolla, third; Tyler, Springfield, fourth. Time, 3 minutes 3.3 seconds. (Meet record; former record, 12 minutes 4 seconds, by Taylor, Maryville, 1940).

60-yard low hurdles—Won by Smith, Cape Girardeau; Mulkey, Cape Girardeau, second; Labargy, Rolla, third; Holt, Cape Girardeau, fourth. Time, 7.4 seconds.

Two-mile run—Won by Fraye, Warrensburg; Fort, Maryville, second; Pratt, Cape Girardeau, third; Francis, Warrensburg, fourth. Time, 10 minutes, 34.1 seconds.

300-yard dash—Won by Roca, Cape Girardeau; Davis, Maryville, second; Hunter, Cape Girardeau, third; Eldred, Springfield, fourth. Distance 21 feet 6 1/4 inches.

Mile relay—Won by Cape Girardeau (Rosen, Smith, Gannett, Allison); Kirksville, second; Springfield, third; Warrensburg, fourth. Time, 3 minutes 41.8 seconds. (Maryville finished first, but was disqualified.)

Varsity Villagers Open Volley Ball Tournament

Knights of Hickory Stick Voice Opinion About School Funds

Group of Administrators Meet for Dinner and to Study Legislation.

With more than 125 school administrators and members of boards of education present at their dinner-meeting on Saturday night following the Sixth Annual Conference on Elementary Education, the Knights of the Hickory Stick passed three resolutions on the subject of school funds.

According to Tracy Dale, president of the Knights of the Hickory Stick and superintendent of schools in St. Joseph, in an article in the St. Joseph News-Press, the organization studied legislation pending in the State of Missouri and approved house bill No. 207, which would set aside one-third of the state's general revenue fund for schools, as has been the custom the past fifty-two years. The members urged that the practice be continued.

The members also asked that house bill No. 419, which would allow schools in the larger cities, such as St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph, a larger portion of the school funds, be made a law.

In a third resolution approved, the members voiced opposition to senate resolution No. 2, which would make it possible to earmark parts of the state's general fund for specific purposes. Such a procedure, said the resolution, would take money from the general fund, from which the schools obtain support under the present setup.

Flat Chests Indicate Physical Superiority

Minneapolis, Minn.—(ACP)—Flat chests are a sign of physical superiority rather than weakness, according to research experiments conducted by Dr. S. A. Welsman of the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Welsman's findings show a distinct correlation between depth of chest and certain lung ailments. From compilation of the thoracic indexes—ratio of depth of chest to width—of more than 22,000 children and adults, Dr. Welsman discovered that the average adult chest indexes at .670 while a so-called weak chest averages about .770, approximately 10 per cent deeper.

"The normal, healthy chest," Dr. Welsman declared, "is flat and wide."

Students Find Ways to Pay College Expenses

Students at this College display various skills in the way in which they help defray their college expenses. Not only do they work in Maryville but many find it quite profitable to spend the week-ends in lucrative activity.

Week-ends find many musicians giving lessons in their home towns. Edwina Lawrence, whose home is in Rushville, has been giving piano lessons there for three years. Ruth Paul, of Bedford, Iowa, returns home each week-end and gives piano lessons to ten pupils. Mildred Niccum, of St. Joseph, has been giving lessons there for four years.

Another musician, Frank Baker acts as organist at the Christian Church here in Maryville.

Men show a great diversity in jobs. John Burch, of Bedford, Iowa, is night clerk at the Hotel Balmum. Eugene Stephens returns to his home town, Shenandoah, every week-end to work as a butcher in a grocery store. Wallace Cursler designs gasoline on South Main street. Don Deere conducts a training course for Scout patrol leaders in Maryville. Sterling Ross, a sophomore from Ravenwood, handles the publicity for the merchants and business men of Maryville in the College paper.

Miss Margaret Arthur, a freshman from Smithville raises turkeys—"Just ordinary turkeys," she says—to help to meet her school expenses. About four years ago she raised chickens during the summer. The next summer she commenced turkey raising because she thought there was more cash in it. During the summer she does practically all the work connected with her turkeys while she has the able assistance of her parents during school seasons. Last summer the forty turkeys raised brought enough to pay more than half of her expenses for the current school year. Next year she plans to raise around 80 head.

Sleepy Students to Be Awakened by Color

New Wilmington, Del.—(ACP)—Classrooms at Westminster college will be done over in colors like salmon, apricot and "cool green." In an experiment to relieve the monotony of drab walls for students and thus keep sleepy ones awake.

Moving figure in the plan is Professor Harold J. Brennan, head of the art department, who believes college classrooms are the "last citadel of drabness" and should be "individualized."

"There would be fewer dozing and sleepy students if classrooms were made attractive, instead of being merely 50 chairs surrounded by 80 feet of blackboards and bare walls," Brennan said.

Medical and Surgical Supplies Are Needed

Six months ago, several doctors got together to form the Medical and Surgical Supply committee of America for the purpose of relieving the suffering among sick, wounded and homeless civilians in Great Britain and Greece. Today that organization is composed of more than 280 prominent physicians and surgeons who operate through regional branches that have been established in principal cities throughout the United States. Already, the Committee has collected and shipped overseas more than $157,000 worth of surgical instruments, drugs, vaccines, serums, pharmaceuticals, vitamins, biologics, concentrated foods and other vital supplies.

The Medical and Surgical Supply Committee of America is faced with a difficult situation in equipping emergency field hospitals and helping to combat the ever rising danger of epidemics and diseases threatening England and Greece as the war grows more intense. Furthermore, the Committee has recently expanded its facilities to enable sending medical aid to the Free French Forces in Africa as well as to the Royal Norwegian Convoy servicing British ships out of Canada.

These sets are specifically designed to enable surgeons to perform any type of emergency operation at the scene of the injury. They are secured through the contributions of organizations, institutions, and private persons. First aid kits are purchased and shipped insured either to the Free French in Africa or to the Norwegian Convoys in Canada for $70; complete surgical operating sets are purchased and shipped insured for $200. Each unit bears a plate inscribed with the name of the individual or group making the donation.

The committee of physicians and surgeons to continue their aid to the stricken non-combatants and other innocent war victims abroad are accepting donations, large or small, mailed directly to the national headquarters of the Medical and Surgical Supply Committee of America, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York City.

"Thousands of suffering people in Great Britain and Greece are crying for help—don't let them down!" is the word the committee sends out.
